To apply, prospective JD students submit the following:

- a resume - describing employment history, including part-time and summer employment.
- a personal statement - essay discussing motivation for attending law school and how the Thomas R. Kline School of Law will help the applicant achieve his or her goals.
- LSDAS registration - all applicants, including those educated abroad, are required to register with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS). The LSDAS will provide Drexel University with a report containing information important in the admission process.

Visit the Law School Admission Council Website at www.lsac.org (http://www.lsac.org) for more information and to register.

The report includes an undergraduate academic summary; undergraduate, graduate and law/professional school transcripts; LSAT scores; and letters of recommendation (at least two) processed by the Law School Admission Council (LSAC).

To access the online application (http://drexel.edu/law/admissions/apply) or for additional guidelines on how to apply, visit the Thomas R. Kline School of Law (http://www.drexel.edu/law) website.

Students who are interested in the Master of Legal Studies or Certificate programs should visit www.drexel.com (http://www.drexel.com) to apply through Drexel University Online.

Educational Objectives
The educational objectives of the Thomas R. Kline School of Law include knowledge of the law, training in practical skills, and commitment to professionalism. The Juris Doctor (JD) degree program offers a standard law school curriculum, to ensure that its graduates are well-equipped to pass the bar examination upon graduation and to be competent legal professionals, regardless of their particular practice areas. Students may complete the JD on a full-time basis in either two or three years.

The Master of Legal Studies (MLS) program and associated certificates, designed for individuals who are not seeking to become attorneys, are intended to develop and improve career-related skills through the study of the legal system, legal writing, law, regulation, and policy.

Accreditation
The Juris Doctor program at the Thomas R. Kline School of Law at Drexel University is fully accredited by the American Bar Association (ABA). The ABA does not offer accreditation to non-JD programs, but has acquiesced to the Master of Legal Studies and certificate programs offered by the Thomas R. Kline School of Law.

Majors
- Juris Doctor (JD)
- Legal Studies (MLS)

Certificates
- Criminal Law
- Health Care Compliance

Facilities
Located in the heart of the University’s main campus in University City, the Thomas R. Kline School of Law (http://www.drexel.edu/law) is in a 57,254 square foot facility that includes:

- a 2-story atrium and balcony area for meetings, receptions and casual conversation
- two large classrooms, seating 72
- one moot courtroom, seating 65
- one medium classroom, seating 55
- two classrooms, seating 32
- two seminar rooms
- one classroom, seating 18
- thirty-seven offices for full-time faculty, plus 2 offices for adjunct professors
- office space for student organizations, Trial Team, Moot Court, Law Review and in-house clinics
- the Legal Research Center (http://www.earleemacklaw.drexel.edu/lrc) , one-floor library with 14,500 linear feet of shelving
- quiet study areas and group study rooms within the library

Additionally, the Thomas R. Kline School of Law utilizes space in the Dornsife Center for Neighborhood Partnerships and the Papadakis Integrated Sciences Building. The entire area shares Drexel’s campus-wide wireless access to the internet, and all classrooms include data ports for each student and high-tech audio/visual resources. The law building is located on Market Street, between 33rd and 34th Streets. It is also a half-block from both the Market-Frankford elevated subway line (serving Center City and the Northeast), as well as the subway-surface lines (serving the City’s western suburbs), making the law school convenient to where students will live and to the courts and co-op placements in the downtown legal district.

Master of Legal Studies

Master of Legal Studies (MLS) 30.0 semester credits

About the Program
As society becomes increasingly regulated, job candidates with advanced skills in legal and regulatory analysis, as well as regulatory compliance, have become highly appealing to many employers. Although many employers do not want to hire additional attorneys, they require employees with sophisticated and narrowly focused exposure to law and legal regulation.

The Master of Legal Studies (MLS) program is a post-baccalaureate degree designed for individuals to develop and improve career-related skills through the study of the legal system, legal writing, law, regulation, and policy. Ideal candidates include individuals in other disciplines, professionals who would benefit from focused legal knowledge (such as those in the fields of health, college sports, human resources, finance, etc.), individuals seeking career changes, and those generally interested in the field of law. Upon completion of each degree program, graduates will understand how the law relates to and impacts their particular areas of interest, although they will not be attorneys.

Currently, four optional concentrations are offered:

- Criminal Law
- Health Care Compliance
- Human Resources Compliance
- NCAA Compliance and Sports Law

The program is designed to be completed on either a part-time or full-time basis.

Degree Requirements
All students must complete the required core curriculum courses, and additional electives or concentration courses, totaling 30.0 semester credits.

Within the program, four optional concentrations are currently offered:
• Criminal Law
• Health Care Compliance
• Human Resources Compliance
• NCAA Compliance and Sports Law

The JD Program

Juris Doctor (JD): 85.0 semester credits
About the Program

Students spend their first year on campus learning the foundation of legal analysis, skills, and professionalism. The program includes traditional first-year courses, such as contracts and criminal law. It also includes a comprehensive legal methods course, taught by full-time faculty, that instructs students on the fundamentals of legal writing and analysis, as well as a class on interviewing, counseling, and negotiation. Students choose one elective course as part of their first year curriculum.

The upper-level curriculum exposes students to a broad array of topics relevant to the study of law. Students are required to complete courses in professional responsibility, legal writing and other practice skills, and statutory law. Students must also complete at least 50 hours of pro bono work.

The Experiential Education Program

Students have the option to participate in cooperative education opportunities, clinical courses, in-depth trial practice, and other simulation courses.

The cooperative education program allows upper-level students to spend a semester at a designated placement. The goal of the program is to provide students with an integrated learning experience that will ensure that they are prepared for the complexities of modern-day practice. Placements include judicial chambers, private law firms, in-house counsel offices, and non-profit organizations. Students are not paid for their work but will instead receive academic credits for their co-op experiences and for a lawyering practice seminar that must be taken in conjunction with the co-op.

The school offers students the chance to represent real clients in a clinical setting. Clinical offerings include a Civil Litigation Field Clinic, Criminal Litigation Field Clinic, Appellate Litigation Clinic, Community Lawyering Clinic, and Entrepreneurial Law Clinic.

The Thomas R. Kline School of Law also offers simulation courses in both litigation and transactional practice.

About the Concentrations

The Thomas R. Kline School of Law also builds on some of the strengths for which Drexel University is nationally known by initially offering four optional concentrations. These are areas in which there are expanding employment opportunities and a need for specialized knowledge and skills: intellectual property, health, entrepreneurial business, and criminal law. These concentrations consist not only of specialized courses taught in the classroom, but also experiential learning opportunities such as co-ops and simulations.

Joint Degrees

For those law students interested in pursuing expertise in another area of study, the School also offers several joint degrees combining law with other subjects, including Law and Business Administration (JD/MBA), Law and Library and Information Science (JD/MS), (https://nextcatalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofartsandsciences/psychologylaw), Law and Psychology (JD/PhD (https://nextcatalog.drexel.edu/graduate/collegeofartsandsciences/psychologylaw), Law and Public Health (JD/MPH), and Law and Public Policy (JD/MSPP). For more details about joint degree opportunities, visit the Thomas R. Kline School of Law Joint Degree (http://www.drexel.edu/law/academics/jointDegrees) website.
